Perhaps the plan will include how work will be accomplished, how communication will be accomplished, both internal and

	external communication. External communication to include to the Governor and Legislature – so that our champions are informed. Example: nursing curriculum: the goal is that students, should they travel from one school to another, the courses will not have to be retaken. Is this something that Team IL regions and other participating organizations will be able to accomplish?
Review Short Term & Long Term Goals.	M. Bromberg -Goals listed below (IL RAC Goals and Objectives (from application)) reviewed. Focus ST goals: 1) How Team IL regions will be involved: the intent is to maintain focus on current regional initiatives, transitioning and translating current initiatives into the structure of the 8 Institute of Medicine (IOM) Recommendations (see below). 2) How additional organizations/strategic partners, beginning with those that submitted letters of support will become involved. Each organization will be approached, request completion of asset mapping, including mission statement and current initiatives. We also anticipate a request to frame initiatives in the structure of the 8 IOM recommendations. 3) Convene both Team IL regional partners, IL RAC strategic partners, initially with a conference call as part of the ICN Board of Directors meeting on Thursday, April 7, 2011 1230pm-2pm. Briefly review results of asset mapping, discuss common initiatives and begin to structure a plan with measurable outcomes. Q/A: There will be at least one issue that cuts across all regions and organizations, and there will be other initiatives that do not. Include in this organizational asset mapping plan what items are part of a “bucket list” of items that would be useful in the local area.

Background information Regional Action Coalition (RAC)

RACs are the driving force of the Future of Nursing: Campaign for Action (CFA), a broad, national effort to drive implementation of the Institute of Medicine’s blueprint for ensuring that all Americans have access to high quality, patient-centered care in a health care system where nurses contribute as essential partners in achieving success.

RACs are built to effect long-term sustainable change in moving the recommendations into action. Comprised of diverse groups of stakeholders from a variety of sectors, their mission is to develop an issue strategy plan that will be the basis for coalition implementation efforts. RACs will further the overall initiative by capturing best practices, determining research needs, tracking lessons learned and identifying replicable models.
